Applying for financial aid

Financial aid—whether in the form of loans, grants, work-study, or scholarships—can be an important part of putting a Penn State degree within reach.

1. Start by submitting the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) on the Web at www.fafsa.gov. Penn State’s federal school code is 003329.
   - While you may complete the 2018-19 FAFSA during The Return, we recommend that you use the 2019-2020 FAFSA. The return period is October 1 until the Pennsylvania deadline, which will be available via the FAFSA’s website once released. We encourage students to complete the FAFSA as soon as possible, according to the FAFSA’s online instructions, to avoid any delays in the aid process.
   - After you complete the FAFSA, you may use the IRS Data Retrieval Tool to automatically import IRS tax information into your FAFSA. You must use the tool and save your time and increase the accuracy of your FAFSA.
2. Complete the FAFSA on the Web by our recommended filing date of October 1. Please note: Pennsylvania residents must submit their FAFSA by May 1 in order to be eligible for the Pennsylvania State Grant.

Scholarships

All students who are offered admission and submit a FAFSA are considered for scholarships awarded by the Office of Student Aid. From academic colleges, campuses, and other administrative units may require additional information to a particular scholarship award. Notification of scholarship awards begins in early spring.

DOING THE MATH
Estimating your admission eligibility

At Penn State, an admission decision is an academic decision.

You’re applying to college—an academic endeavor—and, in reviewing your application, we are basing our decision on your academic credentials. Your prior academic record gives us a good idea of how prepared you are for the Penn State classroom.

Middle 50 Percent of Admitted Students (fall 2019)

For estimating purposes only.

Keep in mind that the middle 50 percent ranges shown below are not cutoffs or averages. Rather, they show what the majority of those accepted into Penn State looked like academically at the time they were offered admission. And remember that 25 percent of those offered admission were above the high end of the chart and that 25 percent were just slightly below the lower end of those ranges. This chart in no way represents a promise or guarantee of admission.

Making choices

To help you think things through, follow these steps when applying to Penn State:

1. What to study
   You’ve seen our majors listed on pages 8–10 and looked over the 275+ majors at Penn State.

   Now, if you can narrow down your interests to fit a specific major or several majors that fall under one college, great. If not, consider entering Penn State through the Division of Undergraduate Studies, our exploratory program.

2. Where
   With 20 campuses across Pennsylvania, choose a campus that is the right fit for you. Think about location. Consider housing. Look at costs. And keep in mind that almost all majors can be started at any Penn State campus and will finish with your final two years of study at the University Park campus.

3. How much
   College is a major investment, so knowing the costs up front is important. Figure out how you plan to pay for your education. Consider lower-cost campuses to make a Penn State degree more affordable right from the start.

4. When
   If you are applying to University Park as your first choice, we strongly encourage you to consider adding the summer start option to your application. The six-week summer session, which begins in late June, can give you a head start on your studies and adjusting to life at Penn State.
